Learning with Nature

“Nature breeds curiosity; it helps to grow explorers rather than robots. It reminds us that we are part of something bigger. It grounds us, calms us.”- Ben Palmer-Fry

At Chatsworth, learning from nature is not a weekly or fortnightly extracurricular activity, rather a daily learning experience integrated into their holistic educational framework. Children experience nature in a wholesome way, every day as they observe and learn from trees and living habitats of bugs, birds, squirrels, and small reptiles. They absorb all the various sounds and smells of nature, becoming one with nature.

In a first by any preschool in Singapore, lessons at Chatsworth @Clementi Woods are only conducted Mondays to Thursdays with Fridays being completely dedicated to exploration in nature. The children look forward in excitement to T.G.I.F. as it's a day when both children and teachers let down their hair and engage in fun and frolic. They get their hands dirty in Messy Play Day, go on a Scavenger Hunt, jump for joy at the Bouncy Castle, go crazy creative with Crazy Hair Day and create lots of wonderful moments and memories together.

With the aim of raising children to be conscientious consumers, Chatsworth preschool guides children towards a Sustainable World. The children learn to optimize resources by upcycling, recycling, and reusing materials for their school projects.

Inclusivity in Diversity

The Chatsworth family is made up of different international ethnicities, cultures and backgrounds that come together as a cohesive unit. The children and staff at the preschool celebrate diversity by partaking in each other's culture and traditions while at the same time embracing inclusiveness and equality.

The preschool ensures parent engagement by way of Parent Involvement Projects and other school activities. Parents are encouraged to partner with teachers' in their child's development and progress. At the end of each term, families gather and participate in school events to support their child's learning journey.

Testimonials

Take a look at what Chatsworth @Clementi Woods parents have to say about the preschool:

"We really like the school. We can tell that Isaac is really thriving here. The teachers are very caring. I feel that the way the teachers teach him is aligned to how we believe parenting should be. What we really appreciate about Chatsworth is that there is very open and interactive feedback from the teachers on a day-to-day basis. They are always giving us updates about Isaac at school and also giving us feedback on how we should continue with his education at home as well. So, it's like an integrated home-school journey for Isaac." - Isaac's parents

"It's been wonderful to be with Chatsworth through the pandemic and post pandemic. It's been a really warm, welcoming place and it's made a huge difference on how we settled down in Singapore. And there are two really special things that have meant a lot to our family: 1) The outdoor play. Tara loves it and she reminds us to look at the pictures and the videos the teacher sent of the outdoor play. 2) Her friends and teachers. Tara is very happy here with her friends and the wonderful teachers make a huge difference in making sure that the classroom is a happy and fun place. A big thank you to the teachers for making it special and for making sure that our children are not just taken care of but having fun with each other.” – Sahana Ghosh, Tara’s mother
